Breaker's Picks with Ryan

High Roller	2021 Topps Luminaries	$369
--------------------	-----------------------	-------

Luminaries is back this year with its one-card-per-box format.

With each box containing one encased autograph numbered to 20 or less, you've got some great upside potential on this one.

Best Value	2020 Topps Chrome Hobby	$375
-------------------	-------------------------	-------

Base cards are the new hits. The market for rookie base cards is HOT and this class is loaded with big potential.

Your two autos per box might just be icing on the cake.

Bargain	2021 Topps Series 2 Hobby	$85
----------------	---------------------------	------

This revamped product doesn't have a lot of hits but the rookie chase is real.

A great way to load up on base and parallel rookies of the top guys.

Breaker's Picks with Ryan

High Roller	2020 Bowman Jumbo	$875
--------------------	-------------------	-------

The Jason Dominguez hype is real but he has a good supporting case of other big prospects.

This is the best Bowman product right now to chase the big jackpot.

Best Value	2021 Bowman Hobby	$279
-------------------	-------------------	-------

2021's newest Bowman product is loaded with draft picks and young international prospects alike.

The future potential of this checklist is worth taking a look at.

Bargain	2020 Bowman Mega	$139
----------------	------------------	-------

There are some big 1st Bowman cards in this release like Jason Dominguez and Bobby Witt Jr.

This is the perfect product that can pay for itself without hitting an autograph.
